Headline:
Cloudy morning on Wednesday but brightening up through the afternoon.

This Evening and Tonight:
Mostly cloudy and mild overnight, however there will be some early clear spells in the east before midnight allowing temperatures to fall here, perhaps a short-lived ground frost in prone locations. Breezy at first but winds soon falling light. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Wednesday:
Largely cloudy during the morning with just the odd spot of light rain. Brightening up in the west through the afternoon with some sunshine here. Light winds. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Fine but becoming breezy Thursday with rain overnight into Friday. Windy Friday with rain or heavy showers, becoming cold later. Staying cold Saturday but drier with lighter winds.
